Presenter Biographies

TARA GRAHAM is Just Detention International's (JDI) Program Director, based in its Washington, D.C. office. She provides training and technical assistance to corrections agencies on preventing and responding to sexual abuse in detention. She has been working on the development and implementation of the Prison Rape Elimination Act standards for more than 15 years, including at the National PREA Resource Center. Her research experience includes interviewing homeless and runaway youth and incarcerated women about issues including drug use, sexual behaviors, and experience with physical and sexual violence. Previously, Tara served as a Peace Corps Volunteer in Tanzania working on HIV/AIDS prevention with an emphasis on women and youth.

NINA JUSUF has been working on domestic violence and sexual assault issues since 1992, starting as a hotline volunteer before becoming a shelter-based domestic violence advocate and later as the Executive Director of the San Francisco Women Against Rape for five years. She is one of the founders of NAPIESV and has led numerous trainings and technical assistance on sexual assault and domestic violence issues in general and API-specific trauma-informed services. Nina believes in collective wellness beyond self-care and has led/facilitated trainings on organizational sustainability, multicultural wellness, sustaining activists and activism and genuine security for survivors, activists and women human rights defenders in Asia, the Balkans, and United States. In addition, Nina has experience in leading an experiential learning-based youth organization and overseeing Home Based Childcare Center and Nutrition Program. She can be reached at nina@napiesv.org

NICOLE MATTHEWS is Anishinabe from the White Earth Band of Ojibwe, and is the Executive Director for the Minnesota Indian Women's Sexual Assault Coalition, where she has been employed since 2002. MIWSAC is a statewide Tribal Coalition and a national Tribal Technical Assistance Provider. Nicole was one of five researchers who interviewed 105 Native women used in prostitution and trafficking for their report: Garden of Truth: The Prostitution and Trafficking of Native Women in Minnesota. She is a TedX Speaker, and has spoke at statewide, tribal, and national venues on sexual violence, sex trafficking, and the intersections of racism and oppression.

ANDREW SUSENO is the creator of Moving Rasa. Rasa is the Indonesian word for taste or the discernment of feeling by the heart. Its roots trace back to Sanskrit where it is the essence or the divine that artists would attempt to connect an audience to through their work. As a practice, Moving Rasa, is a creative movement and design form that develops profound understanding and facility of our body and nervous system in context so it can partner with us rather than impede perception of Rasa. Andrew integrates his practice with his work as a doctor of physical therapy, modern dancer, a certified practitioner of the Feldenkrais Method and Laban Movement Analysis and training in anti-oppressive pedagogy. He is committed to creating liberatory consciousness spaces for all people, especially those who are Black, Indigenous and/or people of color marginalized people.
